Anthony Aboud on his Long-Short strategy

By Perpetual Asset Management

13 July 2023

Perpetual Asset Management Australia's Deputy Head of Equites, Anthony Aboud, oversees Perpetual's long-short strategy.

In this video, he explains shorting and the current opportunity for long-short strategies. As Anthony says: "Over a long period of time, markets have generally gravitated upwards. But this may not be the case going forward. We feel that if you can generate returns both from your long positions and your short positions, then it is possible in a market that is flat or going down to generate a return."
